

Literary Notes.

Readers of THE HOMILETIC REVIEW for September will find much that is helpful and suggestive. Prof. Theodore W. Hunt, of Princeton, opens the Review Section with a forcible presentation of "The Mental Demands of the Ministry," showing that there is no profession that can compare with it in the requisitions made upon the intellectual faculty and function. Dr. C. B. Hulbert, of Adams Mills, Ohio, emphasizes the "Importance of Declaring all the Counsel of God," and of shunning a one-sided presentation of truth. "The Second Service" is the subject discussed by Dr. David J. Burrell, of New York, in a practical way. Prof. Wilkinson gives his third, and final, contribution on "The Imprecatory Psalms" and Dr. Ward answers briefly, yet comprehensively, the question, "Who are the Hittites?" Some striking sermons will be found in the Sermonic Section, notably that of J. C. Jackson, D. D., on "The Demand of Human Nature for the Atonement;" that of W. S. Pryse, D. D., on "The Divine Guest," and that of J. Elliott Wright, D. D., on "God's Righteousness Like the Great Mountains." Dr. Pierson sends, together with his "Helps and Hints," two interesting and instructive tables for Bible students, the one on "Prophets in Israel and Judah," the other on the "Comparative Chronology of New Testament Events." The Scope of Education under Mahomedan Patronage" is the title of a paper in the departement of Sociology and Comparative Religion, by Rev. B. F. Kidder, Ph. D., who is making a study of social topics in the East especially for the Review. A comprehensive and scientific presentation of the subject "Panics and Hard Times" is contributed by F. S. Hayden, D. D., of Jacksonville, Ill., and is well worth the price of the entire Review. Published monthly by Funk & Wagnalls Company, 30 Lafayette Place, New York. Price, $3.00 per year.

"An Intra-Mural View," a very artistic brochure, has been received from The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia, publishes of The Ladies Home Journal. As the title indicates, the booklet gives us glimpses of the interiors of the Journal's offices, and some idea of the work carried on there. The main building, entirely occupied by the editorial and business offices, was designed by Mr. Hardenbergh, the architect of the Hotel Waldorf, New York, and was completed in January, 1893. The exterior is attractive and the interior elegantly appointed and admirably planned. The numerous illustrations, showing the commodious and well fitted offices, and the accompanying text, giving us some insight into the work in the different bureaus, requiring a force approximating four hundred employees, indicate wonderful success which The Ladies' Home Journal has achieved in an almost incredibly short time. The first number was issued in December, 1883, so that less than eleven years have elapsed since Mr. Curtis conceived the idea which has developed into so vast an enterprise. In this short time its merit and steady improvement in all departments have received such recognition that its circulation has reached the enormous average of about 700,000, the largest magazine output in the world. The brochure also describes at some length the work of printing and binding the Journal, which is carried on in a separate building. "An Intra-Mural View" will be sent to any one who will address The Curtis Publishing Company, and inclose four cents in stamps for post age.

Our Dead.

REED—Died, in Johnstown, seventeenth ward, John Earl Reed, son of Bro. Jno. F. and Sister M. M. Reed, on Sept. 1st, 1894. Aged 3 mo and 19 days. Funeral services by the undersigned. The following lines by Sister Lizzie Krotzer have been composed and offered in connection with the funeral services.

A little one from us has gone,

The cry we heard is still,

A cradle vacant in our home

Which never can be filled.

And though his sufferings were great,

Yet with a smile he passed

To Jesus in that home above

Which shall forever last.

God, in his wisdom great, has called

This little one to heaven,

And though the body slumbers here

The soul's at rest forever.

Frat. yours

IN MEMORIAM.

Rhoda A. Pettersen, of the Flora Congregation died on the 22nd day of August 1894, aged 27 years, 7 mo, and 18 days. The funeral discourse was delivered by Elder Swihart who baptized her five years ago.

Of her can be said that she was one who kept the tenor of her way along the quiet paths of home life. Her life and presence are no more.

No more can we have her genial companionship, the benefit of her wise counsel, the encouragement from her infatigable labors in the church, nor the inspiration from her commanding presence. There is left to us, however, the fond reflections of her many virtues; and in that reflection we receive forceful influence from the life and character of one who was honored and loved throughout the brotherhood here. She was faithful to her master and to his cause. Was identified with the brethren of the church in all good works, honored and beloved to her latest hour by all who knew her. She passed away with that calmness and sweet resignation which characterized her life. At the time of her death she was our organist. Her mind and body were preserved in such activity that she filled her position in the church with the same precision and judgment which distinguished her successful career.

For five years in the church her counsels have been those of respect and of marked decision. True to her convictions she left father, mother, brothers and sister, and even her husband, and joined the church of her choice.

O! for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still.

J. M. LITTLE.

Flora, Ind.

GABLE—Died near North Liberty, Ohio, Sept. 4th, 1894, Brother Wm. Gable, aged 35 years, 1 month and 13 days. He was a member of the Brethren church about five years and said he was prepared to die and was going home to rest with a full assurance that he was accepted of God. Funeral by Jesse Calvert. The relatives have our sympathy.

SNYDER.—Clara L. Dora Snyder was born July 8th, 1868, died Sept. 5th, 1894, aged 26 years, 1 month and 27 days. Sister Snyder was a member of the Brethren church, an exemplary Christian woman, and died in the hope of a blessed immortality. May God bless the sorrowing husband and care for the little children. Funeral services, by the writer, based on Matt. xxv, 13.

J. L. Kimmel.

BOOKS FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.

No home is complete without Books, Tracts and Papers; but much the greater part of what is published is either worthless or positively harmful. We cannot rely upon advertisements, as a man, without a conscience can write as good words for what is either valueless or nefarious as for that which is worthy and elevating. In this department it is our aim to offer only such books, tracts and papers, as the editor can personally recommend. We expect to add to the list from time to time as we find books of special merit. We shall also esteem it a favor of our book lovers if they will report to us the title, author and publisher of books they think are entitled to a place in this column.
